On February 7, 2020 Pluto TV, ViacomCBS Company and global service AVoD, announced a multi-year global pact bringing Pluto's TV platform to more than 250 live, linear, thematically curated and branded affiliate channels on hisense of Vidaa's new platform in the U.S., Europe and Latin America, for free. Starting in the spring of 2020, Pluto TV will be deeply integrated into the new Vidaa delivery platform out of the box, a direct viewing experience. All new Hisense TVs sold in the U.S. and Mexico will be equipped with a special Pluto TV button. This button is designed to solve a single click that resets users directly into the Pluto TV service. The partnership with Hisense and Vidaa is perfectly aligned with our goals, accelerating our mission to entertain the planet, argues Brandon Thomas, Vice President of Distribution, Pluto TV. The global reach of hisense's recently relaunched VIDAA platform will easily bring free, premium TV to millions of viewers in dozens of countries around the world - all with just a click of a button. Pluto TV currently streams entertainment to more than 20 million monthly active users on more than 30 devices including mobile, web, CTV, game consoles and teleco boxes in the U.S., UK, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Latin America set to launch in March. Starting this spring, in the US, Pluto TV will resume its existing app on Hisense with the new Vidaa platform. Pluto TV LATAM on Hisense Vidaa will also begin this spring in 17 countries including Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Paraguay, El Salvador, Uruguay and Venezuela. Installation across the EU will take place later in 2020. Our key goal is to provide the best free content locally in every market on our Vidaa platform. Partnering with Pluto TV is perfect, said Guy Edry, vice president of business development for Hisense's Vidaa Platform. Adding a dedicated button to our Hisense TVs with the Vidaa platform is another step that users can access to Pluto TV with just one click. If you are stuck at home, you can watch something on your phone, or your computer or smart TV. However, you may not have the money to spend on a subscription to Netflix, Hulu, Amazon Prime Video, or Disney Plus. The good news is there are legal streaming services with great content that are available for free. One of the best, if not the best, is Pluto TV. Read more: Best Streaming Services But Just What's Pluto TV? That's exactly what we're going to discuss today. You can check out Pluto TV right now at the link below. What is Pluto TV? Launched in beta in 2014, Pluto TV is slightly different from other streaming services. In addition to the fact that Access, it offers more than 250 channels of content that runs live 24/7. Basically, it's like a virtual version of old-fashioned cable television. You can travel through channels of all types, in different categories. Lately The service began to offer on-demand free broadcast of movies and TV shows. However, much of its content is still exclusively for its line channels. Pluto TV was acquired by Viacom (now known as ViacomCBS) for $340 million. The company says the service now has more than 22 million active monthly viewers. Is there any advertising on this free service? As you might expect from a free streaming service, you will have to watch advertisements from time to time while watching Pluto TV channels and on-demand movies and TV series. However, the breaks are still less than what you would watch on normal terrestrial television or mainstream cable. Where can I watch Pluto's TV? At the moment the service is available in the U.S. (including Puerto Rico), The United Kingdom, Germany and Austria. Pluto TV is available for PC desktops and laptop owners just surfing their web browser on the Pluto TV website. There are also special apps for Windows users and Mac owners to download. Mobile apps for Android and iOS can be downloaded from Google Play and the App Store respectively. You can get it on Roku sticks, telecomp boxes, and TVs that Roku OS installed and the same goes for Amazon Fire TV-based sticks, telesuits, and TVs.The service is also available for casting on TVs via Google Chromecast and devices that have Chromecast built-in. Apps are available for Microsoft Xbox One and Sony Playstation 4 gaming consoles, as well as Apple TV boxes. It is also available for Samsung, Vizio and Hisense smart TVs. Finally, Comcast cable TV subscribers can download the Pluto TV app on their Xfinity box. Pluto's TV interface and features What we mentioned earlier, the service acts as a virtual cable TV lineup, with more than 250 channels to surf. The channels are broken down into different categories and you can switch between them as well. Since it's a ton of channels to go through, the service allows you to mark any of them as favorites. This allows you to just watch the channels you want to watch. Some channels are only available for a limited period of time and are considered Popup channels you can also switch from Live TV to on Demand, which allows you to simply choose which movie or TV show you want to stream immediately. Does the service support 4K resolution? Some channels on Pluto TV support streaming in 4K resolution, including 4K TV channel and Slow 4K channel. It is likely that more content of the service will add 4K streaming in the future. What are the categories of plutonium TV channel? At this point, here are the categories of channels in the service.
